

Reduction principle

aims to minimize the input of primary energy, raw materials and waste through the improvement of efficiency in production consumption processes. (part of 3R principle)